A. H. Donally Takes Whack At Council

Says Water Main On His Place Is Nuisance

A. H. Donally served notice on Mayor Neely and the city council today that he will require the removal of what he claims to be a nuisance and obstruction arising from the location of the water pipe or water main, a part of the water works system of the city on his premises situated in the Fourth ward between Fourth and Fifth streets, bounded on the north by Virginia avenue, on the east by an extension of Fourth street, on the south by property of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and on the west by property of the Fairmont and Clarksburg Traction Company. The petitioner claims that the water main was placed on his property without right or permission. He further states that in default of the removal of the line within sixty days that he will proceed with workmen and remove the line and will require council to pay the expenses.

BOTH SIDES ARE BLUFFING

TRIAL OF KIDNAPER BEGINS AND LAWYERS APPEAR CONFIDENT.

MERCER, Pa., April 30.—At the opening of the trial of James H. Boyle, accused of kidnapping "Billy" White, at Sharon, Pa., which began this morning, both sides seem confident of success. Attorneys for the prosecution and defense both express their readiness for trial. At the same time there is an impression in Mercer that neither side is ready and that with no real plans matured, each will trust to circumstances in the conduct of its case. The defense is said to have two witnesses from Youngstown, Ohio, and three from Cleveland who will be here to testify if called upon, but it is said whether they will be placed upon the stand will depend entirely upon the course the prosecution pursues.

Attorney Anderson, of Youngstown, has been added to the counsel for the defense and it would seem that a vigorous fight will be put up.

FINE WORK BY FIRE LADDIES

STOPPED FLAMES WHICH WERE RAGING IN THE FOUNTAIN RESTAURANT.

The fire department was called out this morning at 2:15 to put down a big fire that had broken out in the rear room of the Fountain saloon building. The fire started in the ware room and when the alarm was sent in the flames were leaping from the roof. It was a short run from the department and soon a line of hose was put down and the water was sent streaming to the objective point. Chief Reed made no mistake in his direction. The first dash of water hit the spot where it was most needed and from the second that the water hit the building the fire made little progress. In a few minutes it was under control.

Men who saw the building at the time Chief Reed and his men got there thought not only the building that was afire would be burned to the ground, but felt that the block was doomed. But our efficient firemen did not permit the building, where they had not one favorable chance, to burn down, nor was it damaged to any great extent. The ware room was badly charred and a hole was burned through the first floor. This morning at nine o'clock the building was on fire the second time, but it was only a few minutes before it was put out. No water was used on the second fire.

J. L. Booher, the tenant, said that he could give no reason for the fire. There had been no person in the room to his knowledge for over a week, and there was no fire in the building yesterday.

Could Line to Seek W. Va. Coal Fields

Engineers Make Estimates of The Cost

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 30.—Estimates prepared by engineers of the Gould lines show that more than $7,000,000 will be required to double track the lines between Pittsburgh and Toledo and the road's extension to the West Virginia coal fields. The receivers of the Wheeling and Lake Erie have asked the court's authority to place additional tracks at the more important points along the road, and it is likely that similar action will be taken by the receivers of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal. It is said, locally, that one of the first things to be undertaken when the local Gould roads are turned back to the stockholders will be to double track the entire system to the lakes. Officials of the Gould roads say that the cost of laying the second track will be comparatively light, as the company owns all the necessary right-of-way and most of the grading has been completed. Experts have for some time past been seriously engaged in compiling figures, and it would seem that some action is to follow and actual construction begun as soon as conditions will allow. The fact that the engineers are compiling figures would also indicate the receivers have hope of the court's approval.

YOUNG FORGER AT CLARKSBURG

DENZEL GARRETT PASSES SMALL CHECKS BEARING UNCLES' NAMES.

CLARKSBURG, April 30.—By a clever manipulation of signatures and figures Denzel Garrett a local young man seventeen or eighteen years of age, and son of William Garrett, formerly of Salem, has carried on a systematic campaign of forgeries here during the past month or such a matter that has netted him, so far as can be learned now, in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars.

Checks ranging in size from $5 to $20 were the mediums used in his campaign. The names forged were those of his uncle, Walker C. Garrett and H. H. Edinger. The entire lot were divided about equally between the two.

Some time ago young Garrett went to the clothing store of Loar and White and purchased several articles of clothing. He presented a check for $5 bearing the signature of W. C. Garrett in payment, and received the change. Some days later the young man stepped into the store and asked them to cash a check for $15. This one bore the signature of H. H. Edinger. Nothing was purchased this time, but the paper looked all right and one of the members of the firm cashed it for him.

Orle Meyers also fell a victim causing another apparently signed by Mr. Edinger for $15. It is said that he also cashed one on Mr. Garrett.

Big Project

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE PLAN TO ERECT BIG PLANT AT HOLLIDAY'S COVE.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 30.—Announcement has been made by the Phillips Sheet and Tin Plate Company that it has just purchased a large acreage of land on the West Virginia side of the Ohio river a short distance above Wheeling Junction, and that it will start work immediately upon the construction of a big model tin plate manufacturing plant to cost about one million dollars.

A new city is to be laid off and founded upon the property, and it is to be named Weir City, after E. T. Weir, the president of the company. A number of dwelling houses will be erected by the company for the use of its employees.

Work on the new plant is to be rushed with all practicable speed, so as to have it ready for operation by January 1, 1910.

The big tin plate plant here will continue to be operated by the company.

Hon. C. W. Dillon Gives Dawson A Boost for Senate

WELL KNOWN DOWN STATE LAWYER OUT IN THE OPEN ON QUESTION.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 30.—Political developments at the capital so far this week have somewhat confirmed certain rumors which have been going the rounds of late relative to the race for United States senator less than two years off. Yesterday while in this city, Hon. Charles W. Dillon, of Fayetteville, former tax commissioner, was openly talking for ex-Governor Dawson for the senate. Dillon was a strong Dawson man and it was during that administration that he served at the head of the tax department. This boosting on the part of Dillon seems to throw light on certain rumors as well as certain actions of the past few weeks.

Dixon Gets Thrown-Down.

Dillon is attorney for Sam Dixon, prominent coal operator of Fayette and adjoining counties, the rival of Isaac T. Mann in both business and politics. The senators at Washington have listened with delight to the requests of Mann as to federal appointments this year, but Dixon has been turned down. Dillon himself was a candidate for the district attorneyship but Mann's district got it almost before the Fayette coal baron knew there was to be a vacancy. Dixon owns a string of newspapers in this section of the State and how he feels over his treatment is beginning to show. They are blaming Senator Scott for the way the plums have been distributed and are suggesting that Senator Elkins be given some one to assist him in looking after the State's interests. The name of Dawson is frequently suggested in the columns of these papers and now comes Dillon's boosting for the former executive.

Fight for Supremacy.

But just why should Dawson be the man picked by Dillon? The coal king was anything else but a supporter of the Dawson tax laws and even his newspapers lined up most decidedly against his administration. There is just one chance that it is Dillon's doing, and that Dixon does not care. But politics makes many changes. It is true that during the recent session of the legislature a combination was formed by certain Republicans from the southern part of the State for the purpose of shaping legislation and controlling the politics of the State. Their scheme was to so arrange matters, honestly or dishonestly, that the southern half of the State, with its

SIGN 3-YEAR AGREEMENT

MINE WORKERS AND OPERATORS SETTLE DIFFICULTIES TILL MARCH 31, 1912.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—Peace between the mine workers and operators in the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania is assured for another period of three years. The agreement continues in force until March 31, 1912. The awards of the anthracite coal strike commission was signed in the board room of the Reading company here by the committee of seven on behalf of the mine owners and a similar committee representing the workers. With the exception of five added stipulations suggested by the miners, the agreement is identical with the one signed in New York three years ago. The mine workers' union is not officially recognized, the members of the miners' committee simply signing the agreement "on behalf of the representatives of the anthracite mine workers." The conference was a harmonious affair, and ended with "everybody happy," is one of the committee men expressed it. Before proceeding to the signing of the agreement, a resolution offered by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Company, was unanimously passed, directing the secretary of the conference to send a message of sympathy to T. L. Lewis, national president of the miners' union, on the death of his brother.

Mr. Tish Patton and daughter, Virginia, are both quite ill at their home on Fourth street. Mrs. Fred Patton is also quite seriously ill at her home on Locust avenue.

large black belt, could control the nominations of the Republican party. Then a fight was planned against the northern part for supremacy. But the schemes were not well laid and the legislators from the northern part of the State soon got wise. But Governor Dawson was not a party to that attempted frame-up. In fact he worked against most things that they were for. So in the light of all these things it seems plausible that certain Third district politicians are against Senator Scott and that Dillon is taking advantage of it to boost a man who has proved his true friend.
